

A visual guide to the PhoenixHalle Dortmund

Emerging from the Subway move towards the Bus-Station. And straight on across the small traffic lights.

Walk down the street, cross the office of the Ruhr Nachrichten Newspaper.

Walk through the old railroad bridge. At the brown sign „Route der Industriekultur“ do not move left, instead walk straight across the traffic lights into the street „Hochofenstraße“.

Along the beautiful pink-green taxi call box go straight on towards the China Bistro „Shanghai“. The combination of China and the French Bistro in the name is remarkable but does not reflect in the menu.

On the right side of the street is the famous KIOSK where you can buy some water or beer and go on towards the entry gates of the Phoenix premises. After 200 m the PhoenixHalle is situated on the right.

If you stand next to this poster (hopefully they'll keep it there for a while), head 90 degree to the right and there it is – the PhoenixHalle with the current Hartware MedienKunstVerein exhibition.
