JAPAN MEDIA ARTS FESTIVAL

From 10 September to 2 October 2011 the Dortmunder U will focus on contemporary art and pop culture from Japan: film, photography, contemporary art and media culture, music, games, manga and anime will make up a lively and varied exhibition.

Each year the Japan Media Arts Festival attracts thousands of visitors in Tokyo with a top-class programme of vanguard media art, entertainment, anime and manga. The most ambitious and excellent works will win awards and be exhibited all over the world. After Beijing, Shanghai, Singapore, Vienna and Istanbul, the Dortmunder U is the next location for the 6th Japan Media Arts Festival Overseas Exhibition. Prize-winning works of the last festival will be selected for this show. Among the prize-winners are well known artists such as the director Hayao Miyazaki as well as newly discovered talents like Shinya Uchida, an iPad-magician. Current anime productions as well as milestones of the genre will be screened as part of the comprehensive film programme.
